

Centre Closed Until Further Notice

Taking advice from the Government on Friday 20 March, Heene Community Centre and Cafeone22 have both closed their doors, until further notice to help with the Coronavirus fight.

The Heene Coronavirus Policy

Taking into account, the exceptional circumstances, caused by the Coronavirus outbreak, The Heene feel that it is unfair that our loyal hirers should suffer financial hardship. Therefore, we have taken the decision to suspend our normal Terms & Conditions Cancellation Policy until further notice. This means that if you cancel your room hire, you will not be charged a cancellation fee. For further details, please email us a message

The Trustees and the Centre Manager hope that you all keep well during these difficult times and we look forward to being able to welcome you back to the Centre, when life returns to normal. In the meantime, look after yourselves and those around you and stay safe.

Kind Gestures

We have been grateful to receive some lovely emails from hirers, including this one from Mark:
"What a crazy and worrying time this is for us all. I can only assume that the Heene Centre has had to stop most, or probably all, activities by now. I have of course had to cancel my music workshop. Please keep the money and I hope it may help in some small way to assist you when we finally emerge again from this virus stricken situation".

Café Wall

"We can't help EVERYONE but everyone can help SOMEONE'. The new saying on the café wall is more relevant than ever before. The Centre has commissioned a Celebratory frame to celebrate The Heene receiving the prestigious Queen's Award for Voluntary Service last year. We have displayed the original Citation, which was signed by Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth and the Royal Garden Party invitations. Unfortunately, this years' Royal Garden parties have been cancelled, so we were very fortunate to have been able to attend.
